General Comments:

RES welcomes the opportunity to comment on the consultation on Interim Tariffs for DS3 System Services. RES is supportive of the IWEA response and in addition provides the following addition information in relation to energy storage.

Question 3: Are there any other benefits from the interim arrangements that should be considered?

Yes. RES would be willing to work with Eirgrid to refine the service specifications during the interim period. RES has 80MW of experience operating ancillary service energy storage assets and would be willing to feed that experience to any modifications which Eirgrid would like to investigate during the interim period.

Question 4: Have we set out the relevant impacts on service providers over this interim period?
